HAIR TONIC
FOR FALLING HAIR

BUTTON! BUTTON!
Who's got the money? The Democrats say that the Republicans have fifteen millions with which to buy the election and the Republicans counter with the charge that the Democrats have the money. Both sides state positively that they haven't got it at all. Perhaps the stage money. Anyway, you can put it down in your little book of wise sayings that when it comes to a national election the American people may be fooled, but they cannot be bought.

USE IT REGULARLY
Your hair is such a precious possession that you should use Scott's Hair Tonic and Shampoo regularly. Used regularly, Scott's Hair Tonic and Shampoo will keep the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. Sold under a positive guarantee of satisfaction at 50¢ the bottle.

LIGHTS OUT
We quite agree with G. A. M. that the statue of Liberty in Little Plaza is in need of repairs. All in favor say "aye." Opposed, "no." The eyes have it.

A GOOD MOVE
The Mexican trade trip of the Chamber of Commerce is a move in the right direction. Now when the capitalists are abolished the friendly relations so long desired will be quickly established.

DON'T BE CARELESS
It does not pay to take chances with your health. When you are not feeling well, see your doctor who may save you from a serious illness. A doctor's diagnosis is always a risky thing. We co-operate with your doctor by filling your prescriptions with drugs of assured purity, freshness and quality.

GETTING READY FOR BIG PICNIC

"Things are certainly looking up around Clint," said Edgar D. Brown, who was in the city Tuesday looking up attractions for the farm bureau celebration at Clint, September 16. "One of the best farmers put in 150 acres of cotton, and got a good stand on 15¢, and is sure of 15¢ more," said Mr. Brown. "His crop is 2500 bales, and his 150 bales ought to bring him not less than $1500. The seed will pay for picking so you can figure what he has left, and this on a place that just year probably did not make a cent yet."

Wrestling With Johnson Grass.
"We all felt sorry for another fellow who picked out his farm last winter and did not know that he was taking on a Johnson grass farm just this year," said Mr. Brown. "When he came to come, he began to fight, and although it cost him lots of hard work and money, he has it whipped, and also has a healthy, fine cotton crop that will make him some money. And this man was not a farmer before. Hard work and common sense won out for him."

Farmers Support Bureau.
"Another new crop brought a farm and on account of the late spring had some trouble getting his cotton up, and came near giving up his place, but it finally came, however, and now he says that next year he is going to make plenty of money out of cotton."

"Clint farmers nearly all belong to the farm bureau and they are co-operating with one another and studying their business. The picnic they are going to have on the 16th will be a big thing for the community. There will be exhibits of modern farm machinery and implements, tractors and trucks, and cooking demonstrations for the women. Arrangements are being made for farm lectures of high reputation."

Let's Amusements.
The amusement features desired include airplane stunts, cavalry drill, boxing matches, and athletic events by the county schools. We are also planning for good clean amusement features and a good band. A vision is being made to entertain 5000 people. Where at all possible, every family attending should bring a well-furnished picnic lunch, but as we are letting privileges for restaurants and eating stands of all kinds, there will be no lack of things to eat."

GUBERNATI SAYS KILLING OF YOUTH WAS ACCIDENTAL
"My pistol was discharged accidentally as I fell over some rocks while chasing the boy. I could have caught him without shooting him and didn't intend to shoot."

This was the statement of Pet. Carl Gubernati, former convict guard, who was given a preliminary hearing before Justice B. C. Hawley Tuesday afternoon on a charge of murdering Emilio Briones, 18. Briones was shot when he failed to obey an order to halt, after evading police sergeant S. C. Houston. He was killed almost instantly.

Sergeant Richard A. Helman, former convict guard and now a prison guard at Fort Bliss told of the shooting of Briones, after the boy had eluded the police officer and Gubernati's firing into the air to stop the youth.

Gubernati's bond was set at $1000 pending the continuation of the hearing on Thursday afternoon.

GUNS FOR POLICE ONLY.
Chief of police J. R. Montague announced Wednesday that he will not recommend or counter-sign permits for the purchase of army guns which are being sold at Fort Bliss for any person who is not a peace officer. Several persons have asked him to O. K. permits for them, he said.

TO GENERATE

Electricity From

A Windmill

Vernon L. Sullivan, of 101 Mills building, has just received patent for the planing of an electric generator upon windmill heads directly connected to the vane wheel shaft. The primary object of this invention is to utilize the power of the windmill for operating an electric generator to furnish electric current to be used for various purposes such as driving electric motors, electric lighting, etc. The principle object, however, is the furnishing of a cheap rural lighting outfit in connection with pumping of water.

The conveying of the current from the generator to the point of use of consumption is by means of wire conductors combined with a device of peculiar construction for making connections between the windmill head and the stationary wires extending down the tower, in places of use.

The electric current may be employed through the interposing of storage batteries so that a continued use of current may be had; the device may be used in connection with windmills already in use or may be designed for special construction windmills where larger amounts of power may be required.

This invention will be of material advantage in making rural life more livable in that combined with this device for rural electric lighting and the pumping of water for same will make it possible that the farmers of the country may have the same modern improvements that the city people have," said the inventor.
